Hi Roy,

Sorry I missed your call. I understand your question is about how to roll-up reporting for components in the CEDRI template who have differing repair dates, delay of repair, etc. I recommend using a new row in your report for components that have differing repair dates, etc, and not rolling up unless each item on that row is the same.

Note, however, that the CEDRI template for OOOOa is draft, and electronic reporting is not required at this time. You may use this to submit your annual report, but reporting in CEDRI is not required until 90 days after the final template is available. We will update our website once the final CEDRI template is available. <https://www.epa.gov/controlling-air-pollution-oil-and-natural-gas-industry>

Let me know if this answers your question.

Thanks,
Lisa
